

Grainwise

“Grainwise” our weekly newsletter, has been providing current and relevant grain marketing information to subscribers since 1996. With your subscription you are provided access to the website. This is updated at least three times per week. Most readers find reading the email or on-line version most convenient. Grainwise is also available by fax or mail, if you choose.

“At The Bin” highlights actual grain trades executed throughout the week. It lists what area the grain originated from, whether the trade was at-the-bin or delivered to a particular location and at what price. A real price discovery.

“Bid Board” lists actual bids, from actual buyers looking to purchase product. Buyers include end-users, line companies, processors and crushers. Bids may be for spot or forward delivery. Pricing can be available for a year down the road. Buyers can be within your county to international.

“A Farmer’s Perspective” is a week’s summary by John Stewart. Highlighting the ups and downs of the grain markets, what happened during the week and why? John also suggests strategies which includes fundamental and technical analysis to assist with grain marketing decisions.
