2003-2004 Crop Year

This past crop year has been a continuation of BSE, with no relief in sight. Programs have come to the aid of beef producers in Western Canada and grain growers are stumbling through paperwork generated through the new CAIS program.

I'm pleased to announce Robert Wold as Market Master's 2003-2004 "Farmer of the Year". Robert and his wife Darlene farm in the Alliance area. Consistently, the Wolds have been trying new marketing strategies and techniques. Bravo! Enjoy your reward.

At home base, we're growing a bit with the addition of Cliff Brown to our group (he actually started in the fall of 2004). Cliff brings oodles of experience and we're anxious to have his helping hands. Here's a current contact list:

Last year, we participated in FarmTech 2004 and we'll be there again this year for FarmTech 2005. It's hosted at the Mayfield Inn, Edmonton—January 26, 27, and 28. Please stop by and visit our booth.

I'm still writing monthly grain marketing articles for "Alberta Express". If you haven't seen the publication, let me know and I'll get you on the list to receive the subscription. Plus, if you need to have a neighbourly get-together on marketing, let me know and a discussion/educational session can be arranged.

Let's hope prices increase for 2004-2005—at the moment they're in the doldrums. The cost for inputs keep increasing but the price for grain does not.
